

Cloud 9

Imagine there's a version of you sitting up in the sky on a fluffy cloud. That on-high version of you is watching the down-to-earth you as you go about your day.

What advice would the sitting-on-a-cloud you give your real self?

What attitude would they say serves you best?

How would they advise you to behave?

How would they say you should treat teachers, parents, friends and siblings?

How much effort would the on-high version of you tell the down-to-earth self to put in?

Write your advice in the space below.

Then follow that advice because it's the best you'll ever get.